WELCOME TO THE CREATIVE MOMENT AWARDS 2024

In this Entry Kit you will find all you need to know to enter the awards and tell the industry about the work you are most proud of.

These are the Creative Moment Awards and we're looking for exceptional creativity, ideas and innovative thinking. Work that makes people think, stop, smile, listen or cry. Work with detail, craft and thought—the extraordinary.

GENERAL RULES

To enter, please download the entry form. Complete this for each category you wish to enter, and upload your completed forms to the Creative Moment Awards website. All entries should include one entry form and a company logo per submission. Please make sure your company logo is of high quality as this will appear on the awards presentation should you be shortlisted.

Entrants may submit their own PDF awards entry, instead of using the supplied entry form. However, in this case, agencies/individuals doing so should ensure they include information under all the headings listed in the judges' criteria. Not doing so may result in your entry being marked down.

Use a selection of documents and URLs to provide context and background to your entry. Each entry allows for up to 3 pieces of supporting information. These can be in Word, Excel, PDF or JPEG format and must be below 20MB each. In addition, judges love to watch video content so please provide links to relevant videos on Vimeo or YouTube, and remember to include any necessary passwords in your entry form. Finally, entries should not exceed 1250 words in total. Should you win, we'd love to showcase your work at the awards and on our website, so please send us high quality images or links to videos that we can use!

Please ensure you read the terms and conditions on this website before submitting an entry. Entries can be submitted by organisations or their representatives, as long as full approval is sought from all parties before submission.

Please be sure to include a concise overview of the agency, number of staff, details of clients and turnover figures.

JUDGING

The Creative Moment Awards judges are chosen because of their professional and wide-ranging level of expertise from different areas of the creative industry.

Judges will be split into panels and will read and pre-score all allocated entry forms, considering any supporting materials submitted. Judges' pre-scores will be combined and the highest scoring entries will determine the shortlists. Any judge who has a potential conflict of interest will not be allowed to judge that entry. In addition, judges will not be involved in the judging of any categories their organisation has entered, and will not have access to any competing entries. Judges have the discretion to move entries between categories if they deem another category more suitable. All judges are required to sign a confidentiality agreement pre-judging.

Following pre-scoring, the judges will meet to discuss the highest scoring entries and then agree the winner for each category. The shortlists will be announced on 2 August and the winners will be announced at an awards ceremony in London on 19 September.

A GUIDE TO ENTERING

If you're thinking of entering the Creative Moment Awards, there are a few things to consider when planning and completing your entry that will give you the best chance of success.

Follow the entry instructions

The awards website includes an Entry Kit that you can download. You should also read the 'Terms & Conditions' of entry. Take note of the format your entry needs to be in, the time limits for work entered, how to make payment for your entry, the word count and deadline date. Judges don't take kindly to incorrect or late entries!

Pick the right category

You won't have a chance of winning if you enter your work into the wrong category – read the category descriptions and if you are still unsure, drop us a line as we're happy to offer advice. Remember that you aren't restricted to entering one category. You can enter the same work into up to 6 categories, but do ensure you tailor each entry form to the specific category criteria.

Read the judging criteria

Ensure your entry covers the judging criteria for the category you are entering and answers all questions for your category. Judges can only mark you on what is included in your entry form so make sure all important information is included and all criteria adhered to. This leads on to the next point...

Stick within the word limit

Judges may mark entries down, or even disqualify them, if they exceed the stated word limit. Please ensure your answers are clear and succinct. Judges love clear, concise entries – use bullet points or infographics to effectively illustrate points.

Link your results to your objectives

If there is one thing that judges hate, it's when outcomes don't bear any relation to the objectives.

Evidence your results

Judges love quantified results and want to see some proof of what you've achieved – include facts and figures, testimonials, and even images or infographics.

Get the judges attention

Remember that judges will be reading a large number of entries, so you need to make your entry memorable. Make sure your entry is passionate, tells an interesting story and is backed up with statistics and evidence.

Watch your language!

Always write in clear, concise English, avoid jargon and never copy and paste from existing materials. Do ask someone to check your entry reads well and is free of typos.

Take your time

Winning award entries take time and effort to write and perfect. Again, we'd highly recommend you get someone to proofread your entry before you submit it.

Get approval

If you are submitting work on behalf of a client, make sure they are happy for you to do so. It would not be fun to spend days writing an entry and then have to withdraw it.

Provide supporting materials

Use a selection of documents and URLs to provide context and background to your entry. These can be in Word, Excel, PDF or JPEG format and must be below 20MB each. In addition, judges love to watch video content so please provide links to relevant videos on Vimeo or YouTube and remember to include any necessary passwords in your entry form.

Picture perfect

Attach an image or logo to your entry form. This will be used in the event presentation should you be shortlisted. Ensure this represents the campaign, product or organisation you are entering.

All those that win will receive a winner's kit of assets including logos, press releases and winner's photos to help them shout about their success!

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS & THE CRITERIA THE JUDGES MARK YOUR ENTRIES ON

There is often a feeling of mystery as to how judges score entries for industry awards. We don't think this sense of mystery is necessary or the right way to do things.

So, very simply, here is the criteria that our judges use to score the Creative Moment Awards.

CAMPAIGN AWARDS CRITERIA

The judges will be looking for clear objectives, creative and effective implementation, with tangible and demonstrable results in the campaign award categories. They will also consider the structure, presentation and clarity of each entry. Entries should not exceed 1250 words in total and should relate to work undertaken between June 2023 - June 2024.

Please note, a company may only enter a single campaign into a maximum of 6 campaign categories.

Please consider your entry title carefully as we will use your exact wording on the trophy should you win. Concise and to the point is always best!

Each entry must include information under the following headings. Any entries that do not include information under all of these headings will be marked down.

1. Campaign objectives (1 to 10 points)

Entries should clearly identify the objectives of the campaign or project.

2. Strategy (1 to 10 points)

Judges will look at the quality of the strategy that was implemented considering the budget, objective and target audience stated.

3. Creativity (1 to 10 points)

The level of creativity employed and quality of implementation when delivering the campaign or project will be assessed. We are looking for fresh, innovative thinking, best practice examples, partnership working where appropriate, and resourcefulness.

4. Implementation (1 to 10 points)

The quality of implementation when delivering the campaign or project will be assessed. Judges are looking for fresh, innovative thinking, best practice examples, partnership working where appropriate, and resourcefulness

5. Results & Evaluation (1 to 10 points)

Please ensure these relate directly to your objectives. We are looking for tangible results and evaluation that can be quantified, qualified and substantiated.

6. Why your entry should win (1 to 10 points)

You should provide information on what makes your entry stand out from others.

TEAM / AGENCY AWARDS CRITERIA

Judges will be looking for teams and agencies that can demonstrate an ongoing and sustained commitment to delivering best practice while showing a creative and innovative approach in the creative industries and key company initiatives that are driving the DE&I agenda forward. Judges will also consider the structure, presentation and clarity of each entry. Entries should not exceed 1250 words in total and should focus on work completed between June 2023 - June 2024.

Each entry must include information under the following headings. Any entries that do not include information under all of these headings will be marked down.

1. Team agency objectives (1 to 10 points)

Entries should clearly identify the objectives of the team.

2. Recent campaign / work examples (1 to 10 points)

Entries should provide details of recent work examples to include objectives, implementation, results and evaluation. The quality of the execution of the campaigns will also be judged.

3. Recent achievements (1 to 10 points)

Entries should include details of any recent achievements, the success and achievements of the team will be scored.

4. Approach to diversity and inclusion in the workplace (1 to 10 points)

The jury wants to reward key company initiatives that are driving the DE&I agenda forward within the industry. Entrants should be able to demonstrate what impact their initiatives have had. Judges will be looking for evidence of diversity in recruitment, in terms of gender, ethnicity, educational background, disability and LGBTQ+

5. Approach to sustainability and purpose (1 to 10 points)

The jury is looking for details of your organisation's approach to sustainability and purpose.

6. Challenges (1 to 10 points)

Entries should contain details of any challenges the team faced and how they overcame these. The team's ability to respond to challenging situations and the resourcefulness they show will be scored.

7. Why your agency should win (1 to 10 points)

We are looking for a team that demonstrates exceptional commitment to delivering the very best in the creative field, demonstrates best practice and shows an innovative and creative approach to the work it delivers.

JUDGING INSIGHTS FROM A SELECTION OF THE CREATIVE MOMENT AWARDS JURY

"It goes without saying the past year has been really tough, but creativity often thrives under tight restrictions and in times of adversity, so I'm excited to see the work that has come out of it. The Creative Moment Awards is always an inspiring one to judge (the clue is in the name) and I'm looking for campaigns I wish I'd come up with!"

Jo Chappell, executive creative director, Fever PR

"It's an honour to return for the 3rd time to the Creative Moment Awards jury. As always, but maybe even more this year, I'll be looking for fresh ideas that are both timeless and timely, that are culturally relevant, capture the zeitgeist, and are earned media drivers, brought to life through campaigns that generated substantial results for the clients who had the courage to make them happen. Best of luck to all the participants!"

Gabriela Lungu, founder, WINGS Creative Leadership Lab

"Stoked to be judging The Creative Moment Awards again this year. As the bar gets higher yet again, what an absolute privilege it is to have the opportunity to wallow in all of the best in class creative thinking from across the creative industries."

Don Ferguson, deputy MD, Hope&Glory

"Creativity is a wonderful thing. It allows us to change the way we view the world and to think that little bit differently; allowing us to broaden our horizons, enrich our lives and solve problems great and small. It's a joyous, positive spirit and I can't wait to see the best of it in this year's Creative Moment Awards."

Marc Allenby, co-founder and chief creative officer, Hijinks

"Last year was a tough year of restrictions and consistently changing rules and parameters, which is a nightmare for most creatives. I look forward to seeing campaigns/initiatives that were clever, showed real strategy and allowed nuance to guide it even with the imposed limitations."

Kim Allain, creative, MSL

"I'm looking for work that is culture first. That is unexpected, intriguing and is not just memorable, but unforgettable."

Indy Selvarajah, chief creative officer, Ketchum

"I'd love to see ideas that have been brought to life through sophisticated chemistry between relevant insights and beautiful creativity."

Ala Uddin, executive creative director, mudorange

"I love work that is original in thought, and executed excellently. I love the stuff that a team has taken way beyond what was probably expected by a client. And I love creativity that has made a mark in popular culture too. That's a lot of love."

James Cross, founder and chief creative officer, Meanwhile...

"I'm looking for a great creative that's simple - something that you can sum up in one sentence and it just makes sense straight away, coupled with clear outcome measures that show the effectiveness of a campaign."

Poppy Lewis, creative director, Aduro Communications

"I'm looking for campaigns that strike the right balance between being exciting creatively and staying true to the brand, and that ideally deliver results beyond a coverage log. Making me smile helps too!"

Henry Warrington, partner and creative director, Third City

"The world has changed in the last year, I want to see work that reflects and embraces that in the most interesting, weird and wonderful ways."

Rich Miles, CEO, Diversity Standards Collective

"Something that's made it out of the echo chamber of the marketing world and become something that your (other, more normal) friends or family would recognise and talk about."

Ollie Edwards, creative director, Good Relations

"It's an honour to be part of the Creative Moment Awards once again! I'm looking forward to seeing ideas even greater than last year's amazing work. As a judge, I am always excited to see innovative, surprising and disruptive ideas that make an impact in the culture. Simple stories that have a great impact."

Pedro Americo, executive creative director, McCann, Germany

"For me it's all about campaigns that actually make people take note and feel something, whether it's humour, surprise, intrigue, compassion, joy or something else. And for the entries to focus on the why behind the campaign, and what it really achieved for, or with, real people."

Kevan Barber, associate insight & creative director, Launch

"I'm looking for ideas that make me want to pinch myself for not having thought of it first! Ideas that make me laugh or cry –any idea that evokes some sort of response/emotion. Creative campaigns that can be explained in a sentence and automatically people go 'AHH, I get it, genius.'"

Olivia Mushigo, senior creative, Good Relations

"This year I am looking for craft, strategy and a single minded approach to a comms challenge. Something that inspires and really challenges the audience to rethink or see themselves in the creative."

Naresh Subhash, deputy creative director, Made Brave

"I'm looking for an entry to create that little spark that makes you think, ah clever. And then it's about impact. Did the creative live up to its objective; did it create change, change opinion, drive sales? Ultimately, it's got to be more than just creative for creative's sake."

Paul Lucas, director, Fanclub PR

THE ART OF WRITING AN AWARD-WINNING ENTRY

Winning awards is a compelling way to attract and retain clients. Award-winning work turns heads, brings recognition to your team and draws in great people who want to work with you and for you.

Here are our top seven tips for giving your entry the greatest possible chance of a thumbs-up from your peers on the judging panel:

- 1. Select the right campaigns. Focus on topical, creative, innovative, challenging work with a big, bold idea at its heart. Be honest: is the campaign a winner? Is it stand-out, best in class marketing? Are you still excited enough about what you achieved to effectively communicate its brilliance? If not, why would the judges' shortlist the entry?
- 2. Read the criteria. Follow the criteria. Stick to the rules. Meet the deadline. Don't underestimate how long it takes to pull together an entry. Start early. Factor in time for client approval.
- 3. Give the job to your best writer. Don't get the agency marketing/new business/director to write the entry if the new business director can't write! Tell the judges a great story. Watch spelling and grammar. Avoid exclamation marks, flannel, waffle, and marketing jargon. Proof, proof and proof again for typos.

4. Create a clear, concise story. Judges have dozens of entries to review for each category. Make sure yours really spells out why it has the X-factor: don't expect them to read between the lines. Include enough market/industry/real world context to help them understand why the campaign was needed. Don't be modest and always give the client team credit.

5. State measurable business and communications objectives Ensure the results section proves that every objective was met. Include as much evaluation data and evidence of the impact of the campaign on the client business or organisation as possible, from an increase in sales to higher levels of engagement with audiences.

6. Engage judges with the human or emotional angle. There is one in every campaign, if you look hard enough. Who cares whether the campaign was a success? What did it really mean? To whom did it make a difference? Whose lives did it affect? A huge proportion of winning entries elicit some kind of emotional reaction – some stories are even told powerfully enough to prompt tears. Not a good look in the judging chamber, but proof that your work was compelling, and meaningful.

7. Remember the magic formula: clear objectives, matched to proven results, plus great storytelling, equals your best chance of winning. Assuming your campaign was brilliantly conceived and executed in the first place, you'll be well on your way to picking up an armful of shiny gongs.

TESTIMONIALS

"Everyone at ENGINE Mischief was delighted when we won Creative Moment's Large Creative Agency of the Year in 2020. Given the nature of the awards it was a real endorsement of the creative culture we've built (and maintained) at the agency. Not only did it fill all Mischief makers with pride, it has also led to a number of blue chip brands coming to Mischief, keen to experience some of the creative genius which the judges at Creative Moment were smart enough to spot!"

Greg Jones, managing director, Mischief PR

"The reason why The Creative Moment Awards = top awards? They're judged by creatives. That's why."

Joe Sinclair, founder, The Romans

"Judged for creative agencies by creatives, these are always special awards. The best work of the year across the whole creative industries is on show, making it an inspiring night. There's a brilliant atmosphere, made even better if you walk away with one of the much-coveted lightning bolts."

Gemma Moroney, co-founder & behaviour designer, SHOOK
